The Eliot & Pickett Houses offer the charm and style of bed & breakfast lodging in the heart of Boston. Located at the top of historic Beacon Hill, just steps from the Boston Commons, both houses are typical of the 1830's style brick town houses, cozy yet stately. The pleasant, high-ceilinged rooms are decorated in a style appropriate to the period. Each room is distinctively appointed, and features one queen size bed or two double size beds. Eliot and Pickett Houses are centrally air conditioned and most rooms have a modern private baths and clock radios. The two houses include 20 guest rooms.

The kitchens are fully stocked for your complimentary, self-serve breakfast and are available for preparing other meals (if you want to feel truly at home). We also provide a roof deck, piano, and a living room for reading or watching cable television. Both Eliot and Pickett houses are non-smoking facilities.
