

New UUA Resources Now Available For...

Planning a Trip to Boston

Check out the Heritage Trip booklet for Coming of Age and youth groups visiting Boston. It includes information on where to stay, UU related and non-UU related activities and sites in Boston, and preparation tips amongst lots of other things. It has valuable tidbits for groups of any age coming to the UUA headquarters, so take a look if you are visiting us in the future!

You can also take a virtual tour of 25 Beacon St., the headquarters of the UUA. This online slideshow lets you see some of the portraits and sights at the UUA from anywhere in the world.

Both the booklet and tour are available online at <http://www.uua.org/aboutus/visitingboston/index.shtml>

For more information, please e-mail info@uua.org or call 617-948-4652.

Publicizing New Ministers and Directors of Religious Education

See our new materials on publicizing the arrival of your new staff member. A step-by-step guide, sample media kit, and media clippings are all available at <http://www.uua.org/leaders/leaderslibrary/congregationalpr/index.shtml>

For more information, please e-mail pw_specialist@uua.org or call 617-948-6103.

Using New Media to Communicate with Members and Seekers

Take advantage of our online resources, including a new media glossary for congregations, information about setting up a blog, tips on using Facebook, links to recommended articles on new media, and more. All of our new media resources are available online at <http://www.uua.org/leaders/leaderslibrary/blogging/index.shtml>

For more information, please e-mail pw_specialist@uua.org or call 617-948-6103.